FOR THE NORMAL SCHOOLDr. Thaddeus L. Bolton to Succeed Dr. Blome as Head of the Educational Department of the School.

Dr. Thaddeus L. Bolton now of Huntington, Mass., has been elected by the board of education of the normal school to fill the important position made vacant by the resignation of Dr. Blome. In the selection of Dr. Bolton for the position, the board has every reason to believe that it has secured the services of a most efficient teacher and capable director in the educational field.

A strong personal desire to locate in the southwest, supplemented by a liberal salary by the board, were the factors which induced Dr. Bolton to accept a position in Arizona.

Dr. Bolton is a man of liberal education and has a wide experience in educational affairs. He began his career as a teacher in the public schools, has had several years' experience as principal and superintendent of public schools and for four years was head of the educational department and director of the training school of the Worcester, Massachusetts state normal. He has for eight years been professor of pedagogy, and psychology in the University of Nebraska. The past year he has spent in travel and study in France and Germany. Dr. Bolton is an A.B. and A.M. graduate of the University of Michigan and secured his doctor's degree from Clark University, supplemented by a two years' course of study and research along the lines of pedagogy and psychology in the universities of France and Germany.

As well as being a thoroughly practical man, Dr. Bolton is a writer and lecturer of considerable prominence among the psychologists of America. He is a contributor to the American Journal of Psychology, the Educational Review, and the Journal of Pedagogy.

Being a proficient German scholar, he is also a contributor to some of the German journals of education. He is a successful institute conductor and a fluent public speaker. Many of his pupils are occupying prominent positions in the educational field. A letter just received at the normal office from Dr. H. C. House, professor of English in the state normal school of Nebraska who was an old student of Dr. Bolton, congratulates the board upon securing Dr. Bolton's services. An extract from the letter reads:

"I wish to add my personal testimony to the magnetic and inspiring character of his teaching and to his honest loyal character as a man. The best year of my life as a student was spent in study and research under Dr. Bolton's compelling and yet sympathetic direction."

During the meeting of the National Education Association at Denver, Professor Matthews had an opportunity to interview several of Dr. Bolton's old students and associates teachers and all expressed the greatest admiration and enthusiasm for the learned man. He will be in Tempe at an early date to look over the local conditions governing his work.

G. W. Boston left last evening for the Agua Caliente spring for a couple of weeks' rest.

THE COMING MEETING OF ARIZONA TEACHERS

Tempe Urged to Arrange For Their Reception.

As the time for the meeting of the Arizona Teachers' Association is not many weeks off those interested in having the affair in this city are discussing the situation and debating plans for the entertainment of the members. One of the first things to be considered is hotel accommodations. Although there are two good hotels in this place, the Casa Loma and the Olive, and although the former is large enough to accommodate a great number of the visitors, yet, unless the residents of the town come forward and offer to do their part towards taking care of some of the teachers there will be serious trouble in getting the visitors properly located.

At the last meeting of the association which was held in Phoenix during the fair last year, Tempe was designated as the next meeting place. As fair week is not a great ways off it is not too early to begin to sum up the situation especially in regard to accommodations. If the motor cars are running between here and Phoenix by that time the matter will be materially simplified as many can then stop in the Capital City and go back and forth on the motor cars. Although it would be an honor to the city to entertain such a body as the Arizona Teachers' Association, still if it is attempted at all it must be done right and those here feel that in all other matters sufficient entertainment, both interesting and instructive, can be provided. Their only difficulty, they feel, is in regard to accommodations.

When you're sweeterin', hot as blazes, when you're sweeterin', hot as blazes, workin' hard right here at home, thinkin' maybe with a longin' of the seashore, where the foam of the breakers seem to beckon, callin' 'cullin' all the day, and you're tryin' to get your hardest to drive all such thoughts away. And when maybe of such yearnin' you've just got the upper hand, and you're bolsterin' up your courage, at your duty's stern command. Then when things seem kind of easier and your friends you don't much miss, you will get a pack of post cards, lookin' readin' 'bout like this: Beach scene, and a crowd in bathing, splashing, 'round jest somethin' fine, underneath that charmin' picture, you perhaps will read this line: "Nice and cool here at the ocean" and your roarin' on the spot. Now be honest, do you like it? Maybe so, but I'll bet not. There's another of the mountains, Jim's up there you know it well. "Fishin' fine" so reads this post card and you sorter marmur, "Hell."

Then you feel so kinda shamed like, as you fling the rest away, and pick up your only letter, see what wife has to say.

John dear, send me some more money, takes a lot at the fair." At the time you find a post-card, makes you want to tear your hair. "I've been hearing things about you." Then you wildly wonder, what? Now be honest, do you like it? Maybe so, but I guess not.

SHORT BALLOON TRIP

The "City of Oakland" Dragged to Oakland.

Oakland, Aug. 14.—The balloon, "City of Oakland," which made its initial ascension, starting from Oakland, came to grief in Livermore valley this afternoon at 2:45. After leaving Oakland the balloon struck a 50-mile-an-hour gale and drifted across barbed wire fences and through trees until it collapsed.
Captain Van Tassel, pilot, was slightly injured. Prof. Vander Naillen, the passenger, escaped without injury. The balloon was partially destroyed.
